

COMPANY PROFILE

MerchantPro Express is powered by First Data to provide state of the art processing services and advanced point of sale equipment to the business communities we serve. Our merchant solutions are easily customizable for businesses of different sizes and needs. As a one-stop-shop merchant services provider, we have everything you need to accept all major credit cards and process payment transactions directly into your bank account.

Our mission is to be an innovative sales organization committed to the success and growth of our clients, partners, employees and sales agents by leveraging technology, analytics and a consultative approach.

Headquartered in Woodbury, New York our staff of well trained professionals provide a consultative sales approach, precisely honed in the merchant services industry. All of our consultants attend industry seminars to remain abreast of the industry's fast paced developments.

MerchantPro Express is small enough to offer superior personal service, yet powered by First Data to provide substantial clout. We are seasoned to understand the complexities of the merchant service industry, and innovative enough to provide more processing options while simultaneously reducing effective rates. Our merchant service professionals strive to be a resource for our clients and partners, helping them grow their business and run it more efficiently.
